

Bored2AI 1 BTC Challenge

Season 1 Creator Challenge: Official Rules

Welcome Creators!

The 1 BTC Challenge exists to put a real prize behind the creators who are pushing the boundaries of what AI anime-first can be. We've written these Rules to be fair to you, easy to follow, and transparent about what each of us is committing to.

If anything here is unclear, reach out to us at the address listed in Section 16. We'd much rather answer your question than see a great entry disqualified over a misunderstanding.

Timeline

Milestone	Date (SGT +8)
Challenge opens	TBA
Final submission deadline	TBA
Screening and shortlist	TBA
Jury review	TBA
Winners announced	TBA

Important Note:

We may finish screening or announce winners earlier than the dates above, but we will never move your submission deadline earlier. Dates can only be extended, never pulled forward. If dates change, the Timeline section on the <https://bored2ai.com/> is always the current schedule.

Overview

The Bored2AI 1 BTC Challenge (the "Challenge") is a competition of skill for creators making original anime episodes and series with AI. Winners are decided on merit. Chance plays no part.

The Challenge is organised by Bored2AI ("we", "us"). These Official Rules are the single source of truth for eligibility, submission requirements, judging and prizes. If anything on the website, in Telegram, on X, or in marketing materials conflicts with this document, these Rules govern. By entering, you agree to these Rules and to the Bored2AI Terms of Service.

Void where prohibited by law.

At a Glance

Item	Details
Who can enter	Any registered Bored2AI user.
Where	Open worldwide, except where prohibited by law or where a prize cannot legally be paid.
Format	Anime Series. Any anime genre, any style.
Entries	Unlimited entries per creator. Each entry is one separate series of at least 3 connected episodes, submitted once, either as one video or as separate episode posts.
Runtime	Minimum 1 minute (60 seconds) per episode. 3 episodes minimum, and at least 3 minutes of video in total per Entry.
Series	Minimum of 3 connected episodes per Entry, and at least 3 minutes of video in total.
Language	Any language, real or fictional, with English subtitles or voice-over.
Prize pool	1 BTC shared across 15 winners: 10 ranked places and 5 special awards.
Bonus	Content made on Bored2AI has its final score multiplied by 1.30. Maximum score 130.
Challenge opens	TBA
Season length	TBA
Where you create	Bored2AI Platform. But creating on any AI tool is allowed. Bored2AI content earns the bonus and is tagged to you automatically.

1. Definitions

A few terms we use throughout. Worth a quick read so nothing feels like jargon later.

- Bored2AI Platform. the Bored2AI platform and everything on it, including generation tools, the campaign page, and entry tagging.

- Entry. one series of at least 3 connected anime episodes, submitted to the Challenge once, together with its submission link. An Entry is one submission, and you may post it either as one compiled video of at least 3 minutes or as separate episode posts.
- Participant. Any individual AI creators.
- Season. The 60 day period from TBA.
- Entry Window. the period during which new AI generations for an Entry may be made. It opens with the season and closes at the final submission deadline.
- Ranked Place. a prize awarded to one of the 10 ranked places selected by the jury and community scoring.
- Special Award. 5 awards listed, picked by the jury except the Audience Award.
- Audience Award. the Special Award decided by community vote on the campaign page.
- Bored2AI Bonus. a multiplier of 1.30 applied to the final score of an Entry created on Bored2AI.

2. Eligibility

In short: Anyone who has a registered Bored2AI account. No paid subscription is needed to enter or to win.

Who can submit an Entry.

- You must hold a registered Bored2AI account in good standing, in the same identity you submit with, both when you create your Entry and at the time of submission.
- A paid subscription is not required to enter, and not required to win.
- The Challenge is open worldwide, except where prohibited by law or where sanctions make participation or payment impossible.

3. Format and Entries

In short: it is freeform. Make what you want, in the genre and style you want. Enter as many separate series as you like.

The Challenge is a single freeform track. Any anime genre, style, subject and narrative approach is welcome.

Entry limits.

- There is no cap on the number of Entries a creator may submit.
- Each Entry must be a separate series of at least 3 connected episodes, submitted once.
- The same series, or substantially the same series, may not be entered more than once.
- We may treat near-duplicate Entries as a single Entry for judging purposes.
- One creator, one account. Running multiple accounts voids every Entry linked to them.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

1	WHAT TO CREATE? • Make an original anime series using your own story and your own characters. • You choose how to post it. You need at least 3 connected episodes, and each episode must run at least 1 minute (60 seconds). Put all three in one video of at least 3 minutes, or post them as three separate episodes. Both are allowed. Either way it is one Entry, and you submit it within our platform under your account. • Any anime genre is allowed. Action, horror, comedy, sci-fi, fantasy, drama, romance, sports and anything in between as long as IT IS ANIME. • Keep it safe for work. No sexual content, no hateful or harassing content.
2	HOW TO POST? • On X, quote repost the campaign's 1 BTC Challenge tweet with your entry so it is attached to the campaign. • Every post follows the mechanics. Tag @Bored2AI in your post and add the hashtag #1BTCChallengeEntry. If you post the episodes separately, every episode post needs both, and the caption must say which episode it is. • Write your own caption. Your own words, your own take on what you made. • Only content shared publicly qualifies. A post that never goes out publicly cannot be judged. X, Instagram, TikTok, Facebook and other public platforms are all accepted.
3	HOW TO SUBMIT? • If you made it on Bored2AI, submit it from inside the platform. The platform tags it to your account automatically and the Bored2AI bonus is applied for you. • If you made it outside Bored2AI, submit the link to your post on the campaign page. You still qualify and can still win. The 1.30 multiplier applies only to Entries created on Bored2AI. If you split your episodes across separate posts, submit the link to the Episode 1 post.
4	HOW TO WIN? • Three things are counted, and they are weighted: the jury score at 60%, community votes at 25%, and social reach and engagement at 15%. Entries made on Bored2AI then have their final score multiplied by 1.30. • Community votes are collected on the site, not on social media. Members vote by liking your entry on its campaign page. Likes on your posts do not count as votes. • A voting account must be at least 24 hours old before its vote counts. • Social reach and engagement are read from the post itself

One prize per creator.

A creator may receive only one prize in total across all their Entries, whether a Ranked Place, a Special Award, or the Audience Award. Prizes do not stack.

4. Content Requirements

In short: at least 3 connected episodes, each one at least 1 minute long and at least 3 minutes in total, posted publicly with the tag and the hashtag, and submitted once as a link. You can post them as one video or as three separate episodes, as long as every post follows the mechanics. Keep your prompts and project files so we can verify the work.

Requirement	Details
Runtime	3 connected episodes. Each episode must run at least 1 minute (60 seconds), so the Entry must run at least 3 minutes in total. An episode under 60 seconds does not qualify, even if the total reaches 3 minutes. Either post one video of 3 minutes or more, or post the three episodes separately.
Language	Any language, real or fictional, with English subtitles or voice-over.
Format	MP4 or MOV, up to 4K.
Aspect ratio	16:9 or 21:9.
Genre	Any anime genre. Action, horror, comedy, sci-fi, fantasy, drama, romance, sports, or anything in between, as long as it is anime.
Content	Safe for work. No sexual content, no hateful or harassing content.

Where you can create.

- Any AI tool is allowed.
- AI tools may also be used for planning, scripting, brainstorming and world building. The captions and the creative direction must be your own, and the Entry must still meet the originality warranty in Section 10.
- Non-AI tools such as editing, effects, subtitles, filtering, compositors, 3D software and audio tools may be used freely for cutting, grading, titles, transitions, assembly, music and sound design.
- Content created on Bored2AI is tagged to your account automatically when you submit from inside the platform, and its final score is multiplied by 1.30.
- Content created elsewhere qualifies and can still win, but does not earn the bonus.

Keep your materials.

- Keep your prompts, generation history and project files for at least 12 months after submission. We may ask to see them at any time, before or after winners are announced. If you cannot show the work behind the Entry on request, we may mark the Entry non-eligible.

Download your work immediately.

- Generated files on the platform are deleted after 48 hours. Download every episode as soon as it is finished.
- Generation credits are not refundable. Plan your prompts before you spend.

Minimal Viable Entry (MVE).

Every Entry must include all three of the following before the deadline:

- Your series, made of at least 3 connected episodes, each running at least 1 minute (60 seconds) and at least 3 minutes in total, all of it your own original work.
- A public post showing your Entry on X, Instagram, TikTok, Facebook or any other public platform, tagging @Bored2AI in the post itself and carrying the hashtag #1BTChallengeEntry. Both the tag and the hashtag must be in the post, not in a reply or a comment. If you post the episodes separately, every one of those posts must carry both, and each caption must name the episode it contains.
- The direct link to that post, submitted once on the campaign page <https://bored2ai.com/>. That link is the only proof required. If you post the episodes separately, submit the Episode 1 post link. A submission with no post link is void and will not be scored.

The post must remain publicly available until the season closes. Deleting or hiding it makes the Entry void and cancels any unpaid amount. Involuntary removals, such as a platform action outside your control or an account suspension later reversed, are excused provided the link was valid when you submitted it.

5. Prohibited Content

In short: do not submit anything that would put you, us, or another person at legal or reputational risk. If any of the below is in your Entry, we cannot accept it, and if it is found later the prize must be returned.

Entries containing any of the following are disqualified at any stage, including after a prize has been paid, in which case the prize must be returned under Section 8:

- Protected intellectual property. Characters, franchises, brands, logos or other third-party IP used without authorisation. No licensed characters, no copyrighted designs, no recreations of existing films, series, games or anime.
- Pornographic or explicitly sexual content.
- Graphic harm. Intensity is fine. Showing injury, gore or the moment of a killing blow is not. Stop the scene before the hit lands, or cut away from it.
- Violence or harm against real individuals.
- Likenesses and voices of real people. Do not depict the likeness of any identifiable real person, whether captured, generated, drawn or animated, and do not use a cloned or imitated voice of any identifiable real person. This includes yourself, your family, your friends, public figures and historical figures. Consent does not override this rule. Your characters and voices must be fictional.

- Depictions of children under 18 in any harmful, sexualised or exploitative context. Real children may not be depicted at all.
- Hateful, harassing, defamatory or rights-violating content.
- Political statements, endorsements, propaganda or misinformation.
- Religious statements, proselytising, or disparagement of any belief.
- Illegal content, or anything otherwise prohibited under Bored2AI's usage rules.

6. Prize Pool: 1 BTC

In short: 15 winners share a 1 BTC prize pool: 10 ranked places and 5 special awards. One Entry wins one prize, and one creator receives only one prize in total, so the pool spreads across as many creators as possible.

1 BTC prize pool breakdown
15 winners across the 60 day season: 10 ranked places and 5 special awards.
Top 10 places	Prize	Special awards	Prize	Decided by
1st	0.240 BTC	Best Character	0.060 BTC	Jury
2nd	0.120 BTC	Best Story	0.060 BTC	Jury
3rd	0.080 BTC	Best Regional Team	0.060 BTC	Jury
4th	0.060 BTC	Audience Award	0.060 BTC	Community
5th	0.050 BTC	Most Unhinged	0.060 BTC	Jury
6th	0.040 BTC	Special awards total	0.300 BTC
7th	0.036 BTC	Season total: 1.000 BTC prize pool
8th	0.030 BTC	Top 10: jury, community vote and X reach.
9th	0.024 BTC
10th	0.020 BTC
Top 10 total	0.700 BTC

Public wording, use this everywhere outside the internal team: "15 winners share a 1 BTC prize pool." Never publish the per place amounts, and never write "win 1 BTC". The prize is a pool, and it is shared by 15 winners.

Payout terms.

- Winners must complete verification within 14 days of notification. Failing to respond or complete it in time may result in forfeiture, and the prize may move to the next eligible Entry.
- Prizes are paid in BTC to the wallet or payout method confirmed during verification, within 45 days of completed verification.
- Prizes are non-transferable. No substitution is available.

- Recipients are responsible for any applicable taxes. We may withhold or report amounts where the law requires it.
- If a winning Entry is based in a jurisdiction where we are legally unable to pay, the prize will not be paid to that Entry and may be reallocated to the next eligible placement.
- If the Challenge does not receive enough eligible Entries of sufficient quality, we may reallocate any placement to additional special awards or otherwise adjust the distribution, with the intent of awarding the pool as fully as possible across eligible work.

7. Judging and the Special Awards

In short: we screen every submission first, then compile a shortlist. The shortlist goes to two things at once: the community votes on it, and an independent jury scores it. Fifteen creators win in total.

Stage 1: Screening (eligibility).

We review every submission against Sections 2, 4 and 5: runtime, format, content compliance, originality, and MVE completeness. Entries that do not meet these thresholds are marked non-eligible and do not proceed.

Stage 2: Shortlist compilation.

From the eligible Entries we compile a shortlist, selected against the judging criteria below. Shortlist selection is not affected by vote counts. Positions are marked preliminary until the final winners are announced. An Entry may be removed from the shortlist only for a material violation of these Rules, never on taste or editorial grounds.

The judging criteria used at every stage are:

- Story and Directing. narrative clarity, emotional impact, and a clear cinematic point of view.
- Visual Craft. composition, cinematography, world building, and coherence of the generated imagery.
- Originality and Concept. creative ambition, novelty of the idea, and effective use of the medium.
- Series Potential. whether the three episodes hold together as one story or one world, and whether they leave you wanting more.

Stage 3: Scoring

Every shortlisted Entry receives a score out of 100 across three parts, and then the bonus.

Part	Weight	What it covers
Jury	60%	The four criteria above.
Community vote	25%	Valid likes on the Entry's campaign page.

Social reach and engagement	15%	How far your post travels and how people respond to it.
Bored2AI Bonus	×1.30 Final Score = (Jury x 0.60) + (Community vote x 0.25) + (Social reach and engagement x 0.15), then multiplied by 1.30 if the Entry was created on Bored2AI. Maximum score 130.	A flat uplift applied to the final score for Entries created on Bored2AI. If the video combines clips generated by Bored2AI with content generated using other AI tools, it will not qualify for the 1.30 multiplier. To qualify, all AI-generated clips must be created using Bored2AI.

- Community votes are collected on the campaign page, not on social media. Likes on your posts do not count as votes.
- A voting account must be at least 24 hours old before its vote counts.
- Vote manipulation, including automated bots, fake accounts, purchased votes, or coordinated inauthentic activity, is not allowed. Organic sharing and asking your own community to vote are allowed and encouraged.
- We may exclude votes that appear manipulated, and may exclude an Entry from the Audience Award if we identify a manipulation pattern tied to it.
- The bonus is a 30% uplift, not 30 points. A base score of 80 becomes 104. Because the top score can reach 130, we never publish a score out of 100 for this Challenge.
- Tie break: The Entry with the higher jury score ranks higher. If the jury scores are also level, the earlier post ranks higher.

How the five special awards are decided

Special awards are chosen from the shortlist only, never from entries that failed screening. Four are decided by the jury. One, the Audience Award, is decided by community vote. A creator may receive only one prize in total, so a special award and a ranked place never stack.

Best Character, decided by the jury

Awarded to the most memorable and original character, judged on visual design, personality, distinctiveness, and consistency throughout the series.

Best Story, decided by the jury

Awarded to the most compelling and original narrative, judged on storytelling, pacing, creativity, emotional impact, and overall execution.

Best Regional Entry, decided by the jury

Awarded to the entry that best represents its creator's region, judged on how clearly it draws on that region's culture, mythology, language, landscape or everyday life, and on the craft with which it does so. The region must be a real place, and the entry must be recognisably rooted in it rather than set somewhere generic. Where the region is not obvious from the entry itself, the creator may name it in the submission.

The Audience Award.

Awarded to the shortlisted entry that receives the highest number of verified community votes.

Most Unhinged Reward.

Awarded to the wildest, most unexpected, and outrageously creative entry that pushes the boundaries of imagination.

8. Verification, Fraud and Disqualification

In short: before any prize is paid we verify who you are. Cheating, copying, or refusing to show your work means disqualification, and a prize already paid must be returned.

Verification.

Before any prize is paid we verify the winner's identity and eligibility. This may include identity checks, age and account standing confirmation, sanctions screening, a signed eligibility declaration, and payout details. Prizes are paid only after successful verification.

Audit rights.

We may request an Entry's sources at any time, before or after winners are announced: generation history, prompts, project files, and information identifying the AI tools used. Participants must keep this information for at least 12 months after submission and provide it on request. Refusal is grounds for disqualification.

Grounds for disqualification.

- Submitting someone else's work as your own, including using another creator's generation.
- Using protected third-party content, or any content prohibited under Section 5.
- Vote manipulation, including bots, fake accounts or purchased votes.
- Bought or automated engagement on the submitted post.
- Deleting or hiding the submitted post during the season.
- Refusing to provide project assets or sources when requested.
- Running multiple accounts, or entering the same series more than once.
- Any material violation of these Rules or the Bored2AI Terms of Service.

Consequences.

Depending on severity, we may mark an Entry non-eligible, disqualify it, or permanently ban the participant from this and future Bored2AI challenges.

Post-payment discovery.

If a violation is discovered after a prize has been paid, the recipient must return the prize on written demand. We will apply this remedy proportionately, and only for material violations.

Right to decline.

Every submission is reviewed before payout. Bored2AI reserves the right to decline any Entry, at its sole discretion, for any reason. A declined Entry is unpaid, and there is no automatic right to a payout. An Entry may be declined after posting and after scoring. Payment is final only when the funds are released.

9. Rights and Licensing

In short: you keep your rights. You grant us a licence to show your series and use it to promote the Challenge and the platform.

You keep your rights.

All copyright and other rights in your series remain with you, the author. Submitting an Entry grants us the licences in this Section. Keeping authorship does not prevent us from using your submitted materials as described below.

Licence to Bored2AI.

By submitting an Entry, you grant Bored2AI a non-exclusive, perpetual, irrevocable, worldwide, royalty-free licence to screen, publish, reproduce, distribute, display and use your series, and fragments of it including stills, clips and generation history, to:

- run and promote the Challenge and future Bored2AI challenges and creator events, including on the campaign page, our social channels, press materials and partner channels;
- showcase what can be made on Bored2AI, including in marketing videos, landing pages, in-product examples, presentations and paid advertising for Bored2AI.

Publication.

Once the submission deadline passes, Entries may be published openly on the campaign page so the community can watch and vote. Incomplete Entries are not published and do not compete.

10. Your Warranties and Responsibility

By submitting an Entry, you confirm that all of the following are true:

- The series is your own original work, created within the Entry Window.
- You own, or hold a licence sufficient for use under these Rules, for every element of the Entry.

- Your series depicts no identifiable real person, and reproduces no identifiable real person's voice. Your characters and voices are fictional.
- The Entry contains no content prohibited under Section 5 and violates no law or third-party right.
- All information you provide during entry and verification is accurate.

You agree to indemnify and hold Bored2AI harmless from any third-party claim arising out of your Entry or your breach of these warranties.

11. Disputes Between Participants

- We do not mediate, investigate or adjudicate disputes between participants, including claims that one Entry copies or infringes another.
- We are not obliged to share any participant's prompts, files, account data or other materials with another participant.
- We will only disclose such information where required by an official legal process.
- Any infringement dispute between participants must be resolved directly between those parties. We may exercise our right to disqualify an Entry depending on the circumstances.

12. Platform Availability and Challenge Integrity

- We do not guarantee uninterrupted platform availability. Scheduled maintenance and unforeseen outages may occur.
- If a widespread technical failure materially affects participants' ability to generate or submit during the season, we may extend the submission period.
- If fraud, technical failure, or events beyond our reasonable control compromise the integrity of the Challenge, we may suspend or adjust the affected process to the extent needed to protect fairness. In all cases we will aim to award prizes on the basis of eligible Entries received.

13. Schedule Changes

- We may extend any date in this Challenge, adding time to the opening, the submission deadline, judging periods, or the awards night.
- Submission and season dates will never be moved earlier or shortened.
- We may complete screening, shortlist selection, jury review and winner announcement earlier than scheduled if the process allows.
- Any change will be reflected in the Timeline section and announced on the campaign page.

14. Privacy and Publicity

- Participant data is processed in accordance with the Bored2AI Privacy Policy.

- Winners agree that Bored2AI may publish their name or username, country, likeness, and excerpts of their Entry in connection with the results and promotion of the Challenge, without additional compensation, except where prohibited by law.

15. Limitation of Liability

- To the maximum extent permitted by law, Bored2AI and its affiliates are not liable for any indirect, incidental, consequential, special, exemplary or punitive damages arising out of or relating to the Challenge.
- Bored2AI's total aggregate liability to any participant arising out of or relating to the Challenge will not exceed the total value of the prize pool as published in Section 6.
- Nothing in these Rules excludes or limits liability that cannot be excluded or limited by law, and nothing in this Section limits our obligation to pay a prize duly awarded and verified under these Rules.

16. General Legal

- Governing law and disputes. These Rules and any dispute arising out of or relating to the Challenge are governed by the laws of Singapore, without regard to conflict-of-laws principles.
- Final authority. Bored2AI has full and final authority over the interpretation and implementation of these Rules and may update them at its discretion. Material updates will be announced on the campaign page, and continued participation constitutes acceptance.
- Severability. If any provision of these Rules is held unenforceable, the remaining provisions stay in full force.
- Entire agreement. These Rules, together with the Bored2AI Terms of Service, form the entire agreement for the Challenge. In case of conflict regarding the Challenge, these Rules control.
- Translations. These Rules may be translated for convenience. The English version controls.

Appendix A: What We Expect

These are the reference bars for format, pacing and story. Reference only. Do not recreate their characters, scenes or titles.

- Creating an Anime Episode. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RzcSRdRiC7w> A tutorial on creating an anime episode using AI.
- Anime Fantasy. <https://x.com/henrydaubrez/status/2107863368157778401> A full episode made by a small team in under a month. Shows how far one creator can push a real series.
- Sci-fi Fantasy. <https://x.com/YaseenK7212/status/2106139710167134359> A single strong generation. Shows what a clear prompt and a locked look can produce.

- Greek Mythology. <https://x.com/artivient/status/2105428545321546025> A myth reimagined as a short film. Shows how to take a familiar story and make it your own.
- Sci-fi Action. https://x.com/suji_pop/status/2103672337287811311 Episodes 1 to 6 compiled into one film. Shows what a connected series looks like when it holds together.

Every reference stays inside our content rules. Anime style, story driven, safe for work. Intensity is fine. Graphic harm is not.

Appendix B: How to Make a Strong Entry

The Rules decide what qualifies. This decides what wins. None of it is mandatory, and all of it is what separates the top of the table from the rest.

Build the series first, then the episode

- Title. The name of your series.
- One line premise. What it is about, in one sentence.
- Main character. Original, with a name, a look and one clear trait.
- World and mood. The place, the time, the colour, the music feel.
- Episode plan. Hook, stakes, turn, then pay off or open the door to part two.

Lock your character before you generate

- Write one character, scenery and storyboard description, then keep it.
- Keep the same style words across every episode so your character looks the same each time.
- Save your prompts and your results in one note. You will need them for episode two.

Write the prompt to a build

- Hook, character, action, setting, style, camera, mood. In that order.
- Start with the strongest moment, not the slowest. Open on the thing that makes people stop scrolling.

Make the cut

- You need at least 3 episodes, and each one has to run at least a minute, so at least 3 minutes in total. Keep them connected, so a viewer can follow the same story or the same characters from one to the next. If you compile them into one video, mark each one on screen as Episode 1, Episode 2 and Episode 3 so the boundary is obvious.
- Open on a climax. End on a cliffhanger or a question.
- Add a title and a thumbnail.

Give it a fair run

- Reply to comments for the first 24 hours after you post.
- Ask viewers to like your Entry on the campaign page while voting is open. Likes on the site are what count as votes.
- Drop your post link in the group the same day it goes live.

What gets declined

- Captions written by AI. Copy that reads like ChatGPT or Claude with no human touch.
- Generic filler phrases: "In today's fast-paced world of AI", "Unlock the power of", "Revolutionizing the way we".
- Templated, robotic or polished copy that sounds like a template rather than a person.
- Obvious AI tells: warped hands, uncanny faces, glitchy text.
- Generic renders with no creative direction that do not showcase the anime-first angle.
- Copy-paste captions that clearly match other submissions, or the brief reworded back at us.
- Using the official campaign banner or campaign visual as your post image. The banner is for announcements, not for Entries.
- Using another person's creation. That is an automatic void, including for the account that posted it first. If two Entries use the same video, both are void and neither is paid.

Original, not copied

- Mimic style only. Take inspiration from a look, never a character.
- Never reproduce a recognisable character, scene or title from any existing work.
- To go outside the genres, be as creative as you like, just tell the team first.

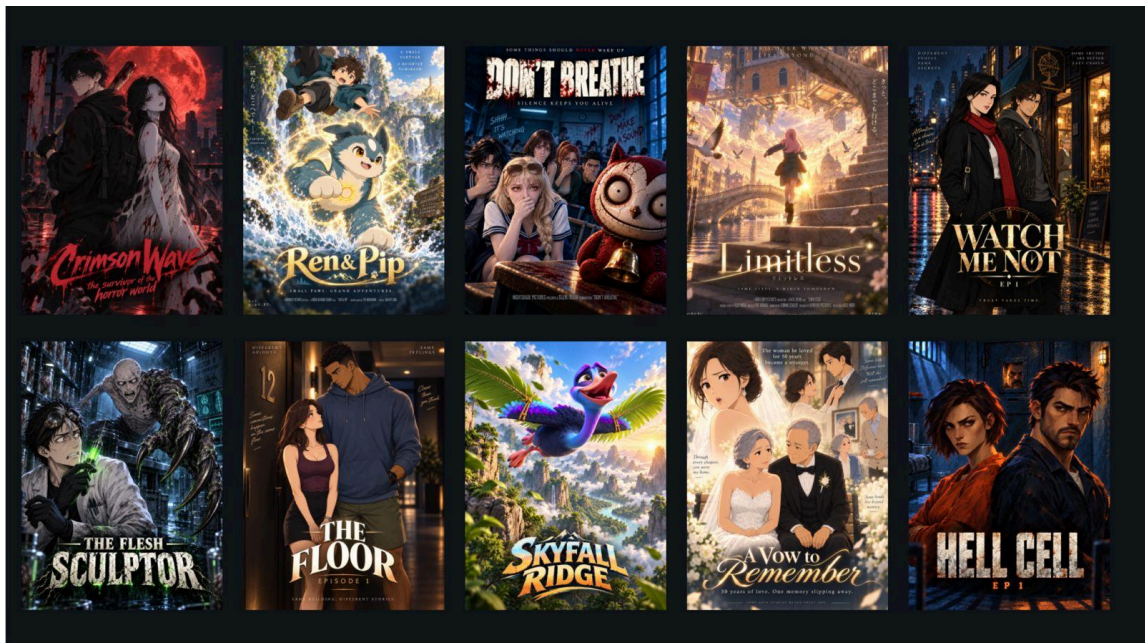

Frequently Asked Questions

- Who can enter? Any registered Bored2AI user. No paid subscription is needed to enter or to win.
- How long does my Entry have to be? Minimum of 3 connected episodes, and each episode must run at least 1 minute (60 seconds), which means at least 3 minutes of video in total. Three episodes of one minute each is already enough to qualify. You can compile all three into a single video, or post them as three separate episodes. Both are allowed.
- Do I have to submit three times? No. Three episodes is what you have to create, not how many times you submit. An Entry is submitted once. You can post them as one video of at least 3 minutes, or as three separate episode posts. Both are allowed. If you post them separately, every post must tag @Bored2AI, carry #1BTChallengeEntry, and name the episode in the caption. Then submit a single link on the campaign page.
- Can I use other AI tools? Yes. Use whatever AI tool you like. Content made on Bored2AI gets its final score multiplied by 1.30. A base score of 80 becomes 104. The maximum possible score is 130.

- Can I enter more than once? Yes. Entries are unlimited. One creator may receive only one prize in total.
- On X, quote repost the campaign tweet with your Entry. Tag @Bored2AI in the post itself and add #1BTChallengeEntry. Then submit the link to that post on the campaign page. If you post the episodes separately, every post needs the tag, the hashtag and its episode number, and you submit the Episode 1 post link.
- Do likes on X, Instagram or TikTok count as votes? No. Only likes on the Entry's campaign page count as votes. Likes on your posts do not.
- Can I win if I did not make it on Bored2AI? Yes, you still qualify and you can still win. You just do not receive the 1.30 multiplier.
- What can I win? 15 winners share a 1 BTC prize pool. You can only win one prize in total.
- When does it close? TBA. Late entries are not scored.
- When are winners announced? At the awards night, after the season closes. The date and venue will be announced separately.

Get inspired by Limitless Originals by Bored2AI. Reference only, do not recreate their characters, scenes or titles:

Bored2AI Website | X | FAQ

1 Prize. 1 Bitcoin. Only the Best Creation Survives. Are You Ready to Win?

Bored2AI is a creative platform. This document describes how the platform and the Challenge work and is not an offer to sell, or a solicitation to buy, any token or security.